Hongkong, December 16rn, 1882.

THE threatening shadow of that projected new Gaol loomed up once more at the last meeting of the Legislative Council. The Secretary of State for the Colonies has apparently made up his mind that the Colony den, all the Heads of Departments, several asval of Hongkong shall have a new Gaol whether | and military officers, and a numerous gathering the colonists wish for such an acquisition or not. It was, we believe, decided by the procession at different points along the route. authorities in Downing Street nearly five When nearing the Cemetery His Excellency years ago that the present Gaol was not Major General Sargent and the Hon. F. B. Johnsufficiently commodious, and that the airing coffin, which was beautifully decked with white -vards were to confined. This idea was of flowers, was lifted out and borne by mumbers Course fostered by Sir John Pore Henness, where it was met by the Rev. W. "Perry the Droll." Still if the fiat goes forth from Downing that Signor Chiarini is determined to keep up Street the work will have to be carried out, the reputation of his shor,

A great deal will depend upon Sir GEORGE Bowgn, who will doubtless be called upon, as one of his first duties, to report upon the gaol requirements. Should be consider the present accommodation sufficient, the work may be deferred; but it is just as likely he may come out with instructions to carry out this with other public works with as little dolay as possible. In that case the next thing will be to find the most suitable site. If the present structure is abandoned, the site should be sold, and it ought to realise a good sum as it is most controlly situated. But a a house of detention, and in that case the amount saved would not be very considerable. Perhaps the best site for a new Gaol would be the level ground near Causeway Bay.

quired. This site would be far more convenient of access than Stonecutter's Island. and would cost far less than a site above Bonham Road. There is plenty of granite in the vicinity, and there need not be any extensive earth-cutting such as would be necessary on an elevated site like Bonham Road. No doubt, however, these considerations will be duly weighed by the Surveyor-General, who of course will be asked to suggest the most suitable sito. The work will in no case be commenced for two or three years, since the public works now in hand will fully occupy the time and energies of the Survey Department for that period, it not longer. Summent PLAN OF THE FOREIGN SEPTLEMENTS AT for the day, therefore, is the ovil thereof.

> is that the D.D.R. steamer Lydia will leave Singapore for this port on the 17th inst.

A prisoner in Victoria gael named Chang Asu who was sentenced to six months' imprisonment on the 21st June last for larceny, died in the gaol bospital on Thursday night, where he had been for some time under medical treatment rom hemorrhage from the lungs. The Colonial Surgeon, Dr. Ayres, and Dr. Hartigen, by direction of the Coroner, held a post mortem examination of the body, and yesterday afternoon an inquest took place, and a verdict of death from natural causes was returned Rumours from Kores (says the Japan Mail) point to a probability of fresh disturbances. It is said that the inhabitants of Kang-won, Chun. chong, and Kyong-sang contemplate an attack on the metropolis with a view to the expulsion of Chinese and Japanese soldiers from the country. Such an attempt is certainly within the range of probabilities, but if made it will doubtless have an ending very different from the first result of the Dai-on-Kun's intri we. China must be very well aware that Korea will not submit for ever to a military eccupation, and if the Celestial braves now quartered at Soul are taken by surprise, it will be their own fault.

It is however, to be regretted, that the Head of the ndministration here has got some red tupe crockets into his head and, in his dual capacity of Lieutenaut-Governor as well as President of the Municipal Board, is throwing unnecessary obstacles and blocking the progress of the Company's operations by raising the most trivial technica objections. We always considered the Honour able Major MoNair to be an official who earnestly tried to push forward any useful institution, we regret to learn that in the case of the Electric Light and Power Company's plans his factios of

In fact, were not Mr. Cuff, (who was a pupil of Sir W. It is claimed that not only will the cost price of the apparatus be recouped during the first year's working but that a handsome profit will also accrue; in other words the owner gets his light for nothing and makes money on the transaction! BRITISH POLICY. LONDON, 14th December, 1882. Lord Derby has made a speech at Manchester in which he disavowed a policy of annexation and stated that the protectorate of Egypt will remain no longer than necessary.

VICTORIA REGATTA, 1882.

Victoria Regatta was commenced yesterday afternoon, when half the programme was disposed of in a most successful manner. That necessary concomitant of an enjoyable day's sport, fine weather, was accorded by the Clerk of the Weather, in fact the elements seemed to have altered their nature on purpose to su the occasion. The somewhat cold, blenk weather. which had prevailed in this colony for a few days | H.M.S. Encounter's 5-cared Whaler before, and which is so particularly felt upon the H M.S. Kestrel's 5-cared Whaler. water, gave place yesterday to a most mild and genial temperature. A bright sun heamed out and gave the scone a cheerfulness which would H.M.S. Lily's 5-cared Whaler otherwise have been lacking. It was, perhaps, a rowers, but for the spectators nuder awnings, the, addition to the favourable features above named, there was a nice breeze for the sailing matches. The arrangements were somewhat different to quarter of a mile off the Kowloon shore, and part which were two long tables; on which a capital titlin was testefully set out. The course was the same as in foreser years, the mile races being rowed from off a mark ashore, a little to the eastward of Yaumati village, to an imaginary line between the lighters and the shore, and the mile-and-half course, the necessary distance further back. The attendance on the lighters was not nearly so large as has been the case in former years, and the attendance of ladies showed a great falling off. The steam tog Fame was kindly lent by the Dock Company to convey the spectators off to the lighters, and she ran two trips from Pedder's Wherf. His Excellency the Administrator was present on board the Government launch Charles May with a party of ladies and gentlemen, and a large numbor of launches were upon the scene, following up the races, or otherwise affording a means of viewing the sport, whilst a numerous contingent of spectators also hovered round the course sampans. The sport afforded was about up to the average of late years, excepting that the amateur rowing seemed hardly so good on the whole as has generally been the case. The number of competitors in the Canton fours was not to large as was expected, owing to some of the orews selected breaking up in consequence some members being unable to go on with the training; the want of a fifth man each crow, as was appointed last year, was felt in those cases. The junior soulls made but a very poor show, but the competition was hastily got together at the very last, and no one had fairly trained for it; in fact it was thought there would be no junior soulls race this year. The defeat of the German crew the Chairman's Cap was hardly expected. For the last week or more they had been going so vell in the training that they were the favourites. As it was they looked like winning nutil near the finish, when Angier's crew passed them, and wen by half a length after a splendid struggle. The latter boat, the Lock, was steered by Fisher, whose crew, at one time the favourite, was broken up, and though he was somewhat heavy for a cox, he compensated for his weight by the excellent course he steered, and the way he kept" the crew together. Kulizau's boat did not steer so good a gourse. The soldiers and police had a hard fight, and fouls were pretty frequent, and Messrs. Dennys and Caff have applied for a local | the lending boat, that of the Artillery, was disqualified in consequence. There was a fine race gulating electric currents. Without coming into among the men-of-war's rigs and whalers, competition with any of the are or incandescent and on this occasion the eight-cared galley of the Victor Emanuel, the victor many previous fights, lost first bonours, but only by the time allowance, as it finished first. the contest for the German Cup, Denison, the stroke of one of the boats, turned suddenly sick, and had to stop rowing. This was most perfortunate, for at that time his boat had a lead of Mength, and scemed likely to win. The race

Dennys considered a proficient in machanical for the Ladies Purse was rather a surprise to most people, for at the trial heat last Saturday Hughes and Comkins finished much shead of Fisher and Angier, but yesterday the latter two won the race by fully six lengths. The hand of the Buffs under Mr. Quinn added much to the enjoyable nature of the affair by the excellent way in which they played the following proramme of music :---

"Danntless" Bonnissoan Quadrille Metra. "Fischerlied" Lange.
"Themse Lieder" Gang'l.
"H.M.S. Pinafore" Sullivan. Barcarolle "Fischerlied" "La Mantilla"...... Kottano. Coro & Marcia "Il Pirata" Billini. "Earl of Chester"..... Koessl.

A capital start was effected, all the boats getting away well together. Kultsen started his crew off at a stroke of 36 to the minute, and they went rapidly to the front, with the Leek holding second place, rowing 34 to the minute, whilst Hughes set a similar stroke to the latter but foll steadily behind. The Karnblane continued to draw away for about the first half of the race. and as she got a lead of close anon two lengths. which was then goin : at 35 strokes, and afterwards fell to 34 to the minute. The struggle between these two boats was a grand one, and most of these who were in a position to see them well still thought the Kornblune had the race. Angier's crew, however, gamely held on at 36 and steadily crooping up, passed the Korabiane, a short distance before the winning post, and won a most exciting struggle by half a longth. The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Shamrook was a long way behind. The time was 10 min. 25 sees. For MEN-OF-WAR'S GIGS AND WHALEBS. SUPREME COURT 15th December.

SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

BEFORE MR. JUSTICE ENOWDER

MOONEY V. LAI AFONG. Mr. Wotton appeared for the plaintiff, and M Johnson for the defendant. His Lordship now gave ind ment as follows The plaintiff was to the end of November from 1st January the moster, and the defendant is part-owner of the steamship Hainan. This is an action brought to recover a sum of $31 due on an account stated, or rather being a sumfor which the defendant gave a promissory note to make up the balance, after a cash payment on. a stated account. The note was unstamped and so cannot be sued upon, and the defendant now claims to set off against it $275 to which he says the plaintiff is not entitled in consequence of a breach of a condition he made not to cousume Meiji the wines and beer of the ship, but to use his own; in consideration of which defendant, who engaged him, agreed to give him $25 a month over and above his salary of $200. Defendant says after the settlement of accounts and before he had paid the $314 he found out that the plaintiff had been drinking his wines and boor and is not entitled to the $25 a month for the 11 months at which his service is calculated, $275, and he pays into Court the balance $39-$314 I was inclined to think that the defendant could not raise this defence in this way, because us Lord Justice Blackburn says, speaking of the nature of an account stated in the case of Laycock v.

not think that defendant, as Mr. Wotton argued need bring his action for damages for breach of contract or for money had and received —but may resist the payment in the first instance—although it is a very special defence; and notice ought to have been given. The failure of consideration is also only partial and severable; the $25 were to be paid (according to the evidence on both sides) as an addition to the first offer. If so, whether they were to be paid for incidental expenses without any stipulation about wine and spirits, as the plaintiff states, or whether they were to be paid apon the consideration that plaintiff abstained from using the wine and spirits sent on board by the defendant for the use of passengers, would not make any difference. It was agreed upon, as think is proved, as an addition, and is severable, and so even if it had been paid could be recovered back. If it were not saverable, as the contract for services has been performed it could not be recovered back if paid or withheld before payment as in the present case. The plaintiff alleges that $200 a month were offered him and refused and that then defendant proposed $25 a month more, and he accepted. Defendant says that he offered $200, that plaintiff objected on the ground that Garrison, or by European Members of the the incidental expenses were heavy and not sufficiently provided for; that he then offered $25 a month to cover all incidental expenses, plaintiff prosecond race on first day, and outrigged boats | viding himself with wines and spirits and serated waters. Which is the correct representation? First of all, it is to be observed that in a scale of salaries and expenses shown by defendant to plaintiff the Captain's salary appears at $200, and apposite the allowance for officers' mess, $160, are the words "no wines." Although the Captain for four-cared Canton cutters: distance, one does not admit it I think that he must be held to mile; this cup to be won two consecutive years | have belonged to the officers' mess. I cannot imbefore being finally held; won last year by the lagine that there would be a separate mess for the Captain if he chose to claim it in a ship of the Hainan class. No provision is made for it. If this list is the basis of the agreement why should the defendant give the plaintiff $25 a month more to cover all incidental expenses as well as wines which are not only not included but are expressly excluded from their contract. I doubt f anything was said about it, but wines were exeluded by the words on the list "no wines." The plaintiff says that the 3:25 were not to include wine and spirits. Now, in the account for January the salary is put down as $200 and $25 Added for "self." In the February account it is the same, only the $25 is included in an item of $50 which represents two payments of $25 for the ourrent and coming month, as I understand it. race on first day excluded. Time for cars, -6 In the March account the salary is stated as $225 in the duplicate plaintiff produces; in the part held by defendant (the original) the $225 is ultered to $200; the addition of the figures is not altered but from the total $25 are deducted and ON CALCUTTA, Bank, 3 days sight 2241 initialed by plaintiff. A memo. made by defend- ON SHANGHAL. ant, which was not objected to, stated that it was paid to make good for wines and aerated waters Loome to the conclusion that the defendant's version is the correct one, that the $25 a month were intended to cover all incidental expenses and that his salary was exclusive of wines, etc., as appeared by the list shewn him at the time of the engagement. No wines were allowed for the officers' mess. The claim, however, of the defendant is a great deal too high. He clearly, secording to his own account, overlooked the months' drink bill and not upon a condition, but because plaintiff expressed an intention of having his own wines a very different thing; was an independent promise to carry out the contract! There were only 9 or 10 pas sengers who would be provided with wines in the ten months in question. Some one consumed 438 bottles of claret and wines. Mr Afong occasionally had some when he went on board, but the plaintiff, who claims a right to use the wines and spirits, must be credited with by far the larger share. The defendant claims to de-Inct the $25 a month for the eleven months over which the plaintiff's salary extends. He clearly annuat do so, because the $25 was not paid to cover wine only or even at all, but to cover incidental expenses exclusive of wine on condition that he provided his own. He has failed to do this; but the breach does not go to the root of the whole consideration for the $25. The defendant is entitled to be repaid the price of the wines and beer consumed by the plaintiff. The cost of the whole was $81 at about $2.75 for claret and $2.50 to $3.20 for beer. It is impossible to say how much Captain Mooney consumed, by I think that a fair sum would be $6 a month for the 92 months during which he was actually employed, and this I am prepared to allow, viz. $57-less the three months account which defendant forgave him and allowed in the account for the current months. Judgment for plaintiff for $275.46 with costs.

The implements were wooden shovels, are-handles, &c. Among the relics also, was a backet made of untanned raw hide a piece of cloth woven of coarse wool, the fibre of which is very even, and still in good preservation, and torch bound together with flax fibre. The probabilities are that the ancient saltminers were overtaken by the flooding of the mine ulso. The find seems to have belonged to the pre-Roman times as the are-handles were evidently used for bronze axes specimens of o der, the basket being superior even to some that were used in the early historic times.

THE WHITE DIAMONDS OF SOUTH AFRICA. For the last ten or twelve years scarcely a mail has arrived from the Cape without bringing a consignment of diamonds, yet only so recently as 1870 South African diamonds were exhibited as curiosities, and not only geologists, but scientists, generally Drugg put forward the most curious speculations as to how the diamonds got there, even when tions of having been occupied and abandoned they were credulous enough to admit that they came from the districts which were claimed to have produced them. At a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society in June, 1868, the late Professor Tennant's reference "the discovery of diamonds in a new locality, the Cape Colony," was received with impatience, the majority of the members appearing to think that the question was only raised to direct attention to the stock of certain West End tradeamen, for it was stated at the time that Mesers. Garrard, the LIEB jewellers of the Haymarket, had in their possession two of these South African stones, elonging to Sir Philip Wodehouse, weighing 211 carate and 8t carate respectively.
